

Nigel Koh, SOL-X CEO will present at the Singapore Maritime Technology Conference (SMTC 2021) during Singapore Maritime Week

Organised by the Maritime and Port Authority of Singapore (MPA) and the anchor event of Singapore Maritime Week (SMW) 2021, the 5th Singapore Maritime Technology Conference (SMTC) makes its debut as a hybrid event on 19 to 22 April 2021. Themed "A New Era in Technology & Innovation", the Conference aims to bring together the rapidly expanding maritime ecosystem, focusing on tech trends and their commercial applications, emerging R&D and next steps in digitalisation. This event will provide both onsite engagement at the Marina Bay Sands, Singapore and online via a virtual platform.

As a leading Behavioral Based Safety company centered on human factors in the maritime industry, SOL-X is excited to announce its participation in SMTC 2021 on 21 April 2021 as a Sponsor and Speaker. Nigel Koh, our Chief Executive Officer has over 18 years of industrial safety and technology experience, previously holding global leadership roles at 3M's IOT safety business. During his presentation, Nigel will share how our flagship solution, SAFEVUE.ai can positively impact Behavioural Based Safety through an enhanced control of work and a holistic approach to crew wellbeing, resulting in improved safety and compliance outcomes.
